KLONDIKE DERBY

BY JIHAO C.

The OA Klondike Derby was a very fun, but “cold” event. It was at the Snowflower Reserve, which is about 200 miles from San Francisco. We left at 6:45a.m., and got there at 9a.m.

Upon arrival, we saw lots of snow and many cars. As we unpacked our equipment and food in the parking lot, some of us went to check out our campsite. We were right next to troop 15. Once we got our campsite set up, we ate lunch. Next we went to do the events which included making a cast for a broken leg, a donut eating competition, a fire making contest, and most importantly, the derby race.

The derby is basically a sled race between all the troops at Klondike Derby. To win, your sled team, which was made up of 4 pullers, 1 pusher, and 1 rider, is supposed to acquire the best time. Unfortunately, our sled team did not win this year.

As the race took place, it started to snow. Then we held a huge snowball fight with troop 15. I still don't know who won yet. We prepared hot dogs and chili for dinner. After a tasty meal, we told jokes and went to sleep. During the night it was very cold, and even though we had new Hammerhead tents, it didn't make much of a difference. The next morning, everybody's boots were frozen, but it didn't take too long to thaw them out.

We ate donuts and leftover brownies from last night for breakfast. While everyone packed up, Greyson, Joshua, and I had trouble while taking the sled down since it was loaded with stuff and it was very heavy. Everyone eventually settled down and we headed back to the clubhouse. On the way back we stopped at a restaurant called Red Drum Burger which was suggested by Mr. George. The food there was very oily and greasy, but it was very delicious. At around 2:00 p.m. we finally arrived at the clubhouse.

NORCAL 100TH ANNIVERSARY JAMBOREE

BY NICK D.

Excitement, anticipation, adrenaline. We just couldn't wait for the nor-cal boy scouts of america 100th anniversary celebration. It all started about 6 months before the whole event, so when we arrived we could not believe we were there. Jake and myself arrived on Thursday night because we were staffing at our subcamp. On Friday our troop arrived in the busy bustling mini scout city, there were more than 8,000 scouts camping for a whole weekend. After troop 88 arrived at around seven pm, they put their packs down and headed off to the small campfire, where there were skits, songs and other things that made the night fun .

When we woke up on Saturday and if I recall correctly it was foggy and everyone was kind of bummed out about it but it did not last for long. We ate breakfast and the sun emerged from its foggy grave starting the real day . The day was a basic layout of plans unlike our other trips, all we had to do was be back by five or so at camp so we went off to go have fun. Me myself and I was with James the whole day and we all had a buddy; like Leo and Patrick or Jake and his dad so we were all having fun with our friends or parents. The events at the jamboree were endless; from guitar hero to a real bmx arena, from a pow wow that was awesome to even a scuba pool, Mr Dotson tried it out, it must of been awesome. At around 5:30 or so we all met up at the camp site to head towards the mess hall, but half way through half the group got stuck at the OA pow wow and the other half made it to the line but some how we all made it just on time for our wonderful dinner, that consisted of chicken, potato salad, lays and brownies. It was all awesome, then back to the campsite again to prep up for the big show. We made our way to the grand stand, (before this me and Shemuel had volunteered to usher people to their seats) got seated and enjoyed the rock/hip hop band and the show. There was also a circus, even LORD BADEN POWELL himself showed up, but the most memorable event of that night was the 50 million dollar donation by Mr. Bechtel. It's amazing how much people believe in scouting!! So after the show we went back to our campsites to enjoy the wonderful ice cream provided by the order of the arrow, after the ice cream we went to bed. Then the next morning we woke up, packed (looked for Zack for about 2 hours) and left . We were just thankful for this wonderful event, it was awesome.

SIERRA SKI TRIP

BY KYLE B.

When we got there we went straight to skiing. It was a large resort in both CA and NV. After skiing we went to the house and unpacked. For dinner we had pasta which was very good. We went to bed at around 10 o'clock and got up around 7-9.

The second day we had more time to ski but other wise it was sort of the same. We were there for longer and many of us rested some time after lunch.

SCOUTMASTER'S MINUTE

Twenty years from now, you will be more disappointed by the things that you didn't do than by the ones you did do.

So throw off the bowlines.

Sail away from the safe harbor.

Catch the trade winds in your sails.

Explore.

Dream.

Discover!
